From Chancellor Kent's Eulogy on the author.

"The Imerican Dictionary of the English Language, is a work of profound investigation, and does infinite honor to the philological learning and general literature of this country. Happy the man who can thus honorably identify his name with the existence of our vernacular longue. There is no other way in which mostal man could more effectually secure immortality beneath the skies. Obelisks, arches, a triumphal monuments seem to be as transient as bubble of military reputation. No work of art can withstand the incessant strokes of time. The untivalled Parthenon, glowing in polished marble, and which, for more than two thousand years continued from the summit of the citadel of Athens, to cast its broad splendors across the plains below, and along the coasts and headlands of Attica, is now crumbing to ruins, after being desponded of its most exquisite materials by savage war and heartless man.

Even the Pyramids of Egypt, whose origin is hidden in the deepest recesses of antiquity, and which have always stood in awe-inspiring solitude and grandeur, are now amnoyed by the action of the elements, and gradually sinking under the encroaching sands of the desert. This dictionary; and the language and greatly corroded by the action of the elements, and gradually sinking under the encroaching sands of the desert. This dictionary; and the language which it embodies will also perish; but it will not be with the gorgeous palaces. It will go with the solemn temples and the great globe itself."

The Publishers of the foregoing work respectfully announce that they have made arrangements with Mr. F. Taylor, Bookseller, of Washington city, to furnish the American Dictionary, in two large volumes, at the very reduced price of twelve dollars. It is to be understood that for this price the best paper and type, and the best binding, will be supplied—the best copies, that is to say, in all respects.

The very valuable supplement, which is contained in no other edition than the present one, should not be passed unnoted; it contains four thousand words, not given in say other dictionary; was only completed by Dr. Webster in 1843, immediately before the sickness which terminated his valuable life, and has been published and copy-righted, since his death, lby his executors. Executors.
The work is now therefore in a finished and complete state, it is not to be supposed that any thing more can or will be added to it; the present edition demore can or win be added to h; the present edition defining and illustrating twenty thousand more words than the edition which, when it first issued from the hands of Dr. Webster, was acknowledged by the English philologists to be the best dictionary in the world.

offering my services as Land agent in Texas, In odering my services as Land agent in Texas, I have thought proper to make known some of the difficulties attending claims held in Texas by persons residing in the United States. 1st. Many forfeit all legal right to accure, from failure to pay taxes. 2d. Many claims, other vise good, will be barred by adverse possession of three years, which is our limitation. 3d. For want of proper authentication of titles conveyed in the United States to admit them to record here.

From some one or other of these causes, the best lands of clear title (if not attended to) are in a condition to be lost; lands too that would now sell for one, two, or three dollars per acre, according to location. I wish, however, to be perfectly understood, that, having made up my mind to attend diligently to all claims confided to me, and to look to that employment mainly for a support, and believing that I am qualified to discharge the duties I offer to take upon myself, and having made it my business to become acquainted with all the laws relating to title, and having offered the most satisfactory reference as to my fitness and integrity, I require in all cases an advance in cash fully sufficient to cover the expenses of investigation. RUTHERFORD'S INSTITUTES-CHEAP.

PROSPECTUS For publishing in the City of Washington, a Der Neumpeper, to be called Newspaper, to be called "THE CONSTITUTION."

"THE CONSTITUTION."

The undersigned, having purchased the materials of The Spectator, will issue, on or before the 10th inst. the first number of a new paper to be called "The Constitution." It will be devoted to the steady advocacy of that system of measures which will preserve unimpaired the sacred instrument from which we borrow the name; and as constantly oppose whatever is not sanctioned by it. We shall unceasingly oppose a National Bank—a Protective Tariff—Internal Improvement by the General Government—a Distribution of the Proceeds of the sales of the Public Lands—Assumption of the State Debts—an abrogation of the Executive Veto, as unconstitutional and inexpedient.

We hope to make the paper worthy of the confidence and support of the Democratic party. It shall be the faithful expositor of their principles, and the ever ready medium to convey their sentiments and wishes to the public. The Democratic cause, a the cause of truth and justice. It courts the light. It shuns no investigation. And we are determined to see whether a paper, conducted with a devotion of the principles, rather than to the mea, of our party—to further the great cause of human progress, rather

COLUMBIAN COLLEGE, D. C.

THE WINTER SESSION of six month will commence on the first Wednesday of November.

See Wether a paper, conducted with a devotion of the principles, rather than to the men, of our party—the principles, rather than to the men, of our party—the further the great cause of human progress, rather than the mere advancement of particular individuals, will not commend itself to the confidence and favor of the confidence and favor of thepeople.

As soon as the all engrossing topics of the elections are over, we shall devote a liberal portion of our co-lumns to subjects of general literature and science, endeavoring to present such matter as will amuse, instruct, and edify.

The proceedings of Congress will receive particu-lar attention, and a full and comprehensive summary will be given, including the yeas and nays upon all mportant questions.

The paper, for the present, will be issued semiweekly during the recess, and daily during the sessions of Congress, at five dollars per annum, in ad-
